HP is committed to providing customers with inventive, high quality products and services that are environmentally sound and to conduct our operations in an environmentally responsible manner. That commitment continues to be one of our guiding principles that are deeply ingrained in our values. It is from this history and these values that HP has become a leader in delivery of environmentally sustainable solutions for the common good.

With the largest supply chain in the information technology industry we also have significant opportunities, - and accept responsibility - to make our social and environmental standards part of our product supply chain. For more information see 'supply chain' at www.hp.com/go/supplychainreport

This world-wide commitment manifests itself in the many environmental programs in place in Australia making HP one of the industry leaders in environmental responsibility in the country.

HP provides an annual public reporting on our sustainability programs. In addition to HP's Global Citizenship report HP Australia is committed to reporting on local Australian sustainability activities.
